

FLOOD JUSTICE SYMPOSIUM

Co-sponsored by

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
Arizona Institute for Resilience

ARIZONA INSTITUTE FOR RESILIENCE
Center for Climate
Adaptation Science
& Solutions

THURSDAY, APRIL 20, 2023
8:30 AM–4:15 PM MST

ENR2 Building, 1064 E Lowell St
and on Zoom

Registration required for both in-person and Zoom attendance.

Registration Link:

forms.gle/ckVFHeCkyqqxdSCw6

Questions? Contact Amanda Leinberger at aleinberger@arizona.edu.

Floods affect more people than any other hazard and are increasing inequality in a changing climate. Please join us for the Flood Justice Symposium to examine data driven approaches to address inequity and agency in the flood preparedness, adaptation and recovery process.

We will focus on four themes:

- i. flood governance in the preparedness-recovery continuum
- ii. flood justice across borders
- iii. data empowered flood justice
- iv. community engaged research with speakers including lawyers, scientists, adaptation experts, and leaders of community-based organizations.

The symposium will be hybrid (virtual on zoom and in person) open to the public, and develop a research-action agenda to address flood injustice.

